

Anthony Combo Selected For '53 Prom

Bunny Hop, CBS Broadcast, Vocalists Featured in Annual Spring Formal

After weeks of suspense and expectation, the lid on the Prom "jack-in-the-box" surprise was uncovered yesterday with the announcement of Ray Anthony as the 1953 Prom band-man at a convocation held in Main auditorium.

Despite the secrecy maintained by Prom committee members, news of Anthony's selection did not come as a complete surprise to UMD students, most of whom had narrowed down the guesswork, with the help of newspaper hints, to a choice between Ralph Flanagan and Anthony.

According to Dick Beckman, Prom entertainment chairman, one of the "biggest and best" benefits of the spring affair is the national radio CBS hook-up that will take place during the dance for approximately one half-hour.

Another highlight of the evening will be the "Bunny Hop," the college novelty dance of the year. Anthony's recording of this song has started a new dance craze in colleges all over the country, while Anthony himself has turned dance instructor during college appearances to teach the "Bunny Hop."

Ray Anthony, "The Young Man with a Horn," heads an aggregation that has won acclaim as America's top band in dance spots, radio, television, motion pictures and on records. Anthony's annual itinerary includes prom dates at the leading colleges and universities throughout the country and a circuit of repeat engagements at such name band emporiums as the Paramount Theater and the Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Statler in New York, and the Hollywood Palladium. The band has also been featured in Universal and Columbia musical films and on many leading radio and television shows.

Featured vocalists with the Anthony orchestra are Tommy Mercer, Marcie Miller, Jo Ann Greer, and the Skyliners vocal quintet. Novelty and comedy are

At the rally the basic cadets present elected Cadet M/Sgt. Dennis LaRoque to represent them in the naming of the new queen, Combat movies of World War II were shown following a refreshment period which included coffee and doughnuts.

The other cadet judge is Cadet 1st Lt. John Sherman, a junior. Sherman was chosen from the advanced cadets by the Arnold Air Society.

Three judges had been named previously. They are Jay Lurye, Duluth; Hunter Como, a member of the KDAL radio staff; and Miss Carol Wick, 1952 "Miss Minnesota."

Ericson Painted the Portrait of Dr. Bohannon which is in the UMD library and the portrait of Capt. Darling in the Tweed library. Both of these paintings will also be on exhibit.

Mr. Frank Triplett, curator of the gallery, urges all students to attend the reception.

Other students and their roles are Dennis LaRoque, Charley, the brother; Nickerson Bailey, his son; Esther Segal, the woman; Patricia Anderson, Letta; Rose Marie Burley, Miss Forsythe; and Robert Sullivan, Stanley. The part of Howard Wagner has not yet been filled.

Oboe-Piano Recital Set; McEldowney Gives Program

McEldowney will play "Sonata for Oboe and Piano" by Paul Hindemith; "Sonata for Oboe and Piano, opus 166" by C. Saint-Saens; "Sonata No. 1, in C Minor" by G. F. Handel; "Nocturne" by Richard Mohaupt; and "Pice en forme de Nabanera" by M. Ravel.

Miss O'Donovan will play "Pour le Piano" by C. Debussy and "Hornpipe" by E. W. Korngold.

The recital is being presented by the UMD department of music.

Prom Committee Merits Congratulations; National Radio Hook-up Brings Publicity

Congratulations to Jerry Cook, chairman of the Prom committee, and members of that committee for their efforts which will bring to Duluth on May 22 one of the foremost dance bands in America, Ray Anthony and his orchestra. Anthony's appearance will be his first in the Zenith City.

Members of the Prom Committee, in addition to chairman Cook, are Dick Gay and Dale Olsen, tickets; Carol Ink, publicity; Jean Holmstrand and Dick Ojakangas, decorations; Peggy Woods, arrangements; Joan Sullivan, purchasing agent, Duane Eicholz, finance; Elizabeth Birch, Prom convocation; and Dick Beckman, entertainment.

Last fall, when Cook called a class meeting to organize the Prom committee, only a handful of students attended. However, each of these students are capable people, and their efforts to date are indicative of their capabilities.

The above mentioned students have every reason to be proud of their efforts, and especially when May 22 rolls around. If you're satisfied with the Prom band, why not compliment the Prom committee with friendly "pats on the back", many of which have already been made.

However, a great deal of work still remains, one of the biggest tasks being decorations. That headache is in the hands of Miss Holmstrand and Ojakangas. The Duluth national guard armory simply is no place to hold a college Prom, but since it's all we have, attractive decorations will do much to overcome the armory's drabness.

According to Cook, arrangements for a national radio hook-up have been made with radio station KDAL doing the broadcast. Although there have been kick-backs about the $2,500 which will be spent to bring Anthony here, that sum is a drop in the bucket compared to the publicity value of a national hook-up. Furthermore, a big-name band at the Prom raises the prestige of UMD in the eyes of high school students who may someday be future students here.

Tickets for the Prom cost $3.50 per couple so buy your ticket early to assure yourself of an evening of entertainment which you'll remember for a long, long time.

PERSONALITY PROFILE

By VERN SIMULA

"You want to talk about golf? Well, how many 'hours' do you have to spare?" was the reply I received from Carol Ink when I asked her about her favorite sport.

But in the quick interview, she related her achievements and experiences of note, which reflects the caliber of golf that she does play.

For instance, last year Carol played in the National Collegiate tournament held at Ohio State. Coming back to Minnesota, she was runner-up in the State Publix held at the Columbia course in Minneapolis. In Duluth, she captured the Women's City tournament.

Playing golf since she was 14, Carol Ink has had opportunity to play with some quite notable woman golfers. Patty Berg's step-mother, for one, Marlene Gesell, 1951 State Publix champion, and Beverly Gammon, runner-up in the National Collegiate last year, only to name a few.

Here at UMD, Carol is a physical education major with a double minor of health education and social studies. Deservingly, she may be called "Miss Efficiency". Diligently, Carol worked hard on the square dance held last fall and it is she that should be thanked for having made it the success that it was.

The coming Prom has as its publicity chairman this same competent girl. Already, Carol reports, that she has sent out about three thousand invitations to the alumni which is to be followed up by another reminder shortly.

Carol belongs to the WAA, the PEMM's, Phi Delta Phi, and Kappa Delta Pi. She is also the business secretary for the student Council.

When her classes are done for the day, Carol then scurries down to the Girl Scout office where she works.

About this time, Mr. Rickert came down the hall with a handful of golf irons. I nearly lost my interview in her temptation to join him to practice swinging the clubs.

Her future plans? She was presently only concerned with the coming summer golf tournaments. A chance to participate in this year's National Collegiate would be wonderful she related. "I'm looking forward to the tournaments to be held in Bemidji, and Virginia, and Alexandria an—well, I'd like to play in all of them."

Timesaver Rosemary Maps Early Career

At the age when most of us are still without a serious thought in our heads, this young girl has gone a long way in her life career. Rosemary Rudstrom at fifteen is a junior at UMD this quarter.

Rosemary began her educational career at Sherman Park Seminary, New York, being in the sixth grade at the age of six. Her seventh grade was spent at the Maret School in Washington, D. C. where she studied French and Latin. This school was also attended by children of the embassies. An "open air school" in Florida provided her eighth grade education.

Getting back to Minnesota, again, Rosemary attended Two Harbors high school for two years but left because of the lack of languages. Stanbrook Hall was her final field of high school education.

Her desire was to study out East but her folks wanted her to remain at home for a couple years, which is why she's at UMD. Her comment concerning UMD is "I like it. I've always liked school and always will." Majoring in English and minor-ing in French and history, she plans on getting her Master's and Doctor's degrees out East. Following that she plans on a four year course in Hotel Management at Cornell University.

A variety of interests besides studying help fill her busy schedule. These include swimming, horseback riding, playing the piano and accordion and caring for her four cats and four dogs. She's also a member of the "Junior Matinee Musical," Theater Guild, Democratic-Republican Forum and the Chronicle staff.

UMD CAMP and US by Dick Wallin

SO RAY ANTHONY, the "Young Man With a Horn," often claimed as America's top dance band will provide the music for UMD's 1953 Prom.

In contrast to our past experience with name bands, this one should really give with some "danceable" music. Ray Anthony achieved one of his life-long ambitions in being chosen by Arthur Murray, the noted dance instructor, as the leading exponent of the fox trot.

Ray was chosen by Murray to record eight fox trots in a special record album, as examples of the proper fox trot dance tempo. The album comprises Anthony's interpretation of eight familiar standards, "What Is This Thing Called Love," "Sometimes I'm Happy," "Sleepy Time Gal," "String of Pearls," "Let's Dance," "Blue Moon," "Lackawanna Local," and "Wolverine Blues."

In spite of the heckles that were cast toward the Prom committee during their siege of negotiating with Anthony's agent and others, we are now inclined to agree that their time and effort will be appreciated by all who attend the Prom. Cook and his co-workers may well realize this year's Prom to be the most successful in UMD's history . . . . .

Sweetheart of the Corps, number five, will be crowned by Mary Ann Ehlers at a combined Coronation and Ball to be held at the Hotel Duluth on Saturday evening, April 18. This, we've been told, promises to be a big affair. So don't hesitate in buying your ticket early from one of the "boys in blue" or from the center hall ticket booth around which the candidates photos are posted. . . . .

Spring makes a young man's fancy turn to love, but if you turn to love and find that it's not there a problem exists. Here's a possible solution. Our neighboring college, St. Scholastica, is operating a date bureau and will fix up "anybody." Just contact Bill Yesberger or Roger Troyer who are the bureau's representatives on our campus. . . . .

An administrative committee on the Main Campus is studying the possibility of the University of Minnesota changing over to semester system. Faculty members and students of UMD have been asked to express their views on this subject so as to aid the committee in its study. According to our insignificant observation, the faculty are in favor of the proposed change, whereas the students seem to be quite content with the quarter system. ----- dw -----

CRITIC CORNER

By GORDON THILLMAN

Another quarter and another "Humanist"! Yes the UMD "Humanist" has again made its appearance to the mass of UMD students.

The magazine this quarter, after having suffered the ridicule and praise of one quarter, has shown a tremendous improvement and has been given the encouragement of more than one individual. The general remarks of the students are much more favorable this quarter. "Much better than the first one" seems to be the saying.

After I saw the magazine I was greatly encouraged by—well, by everything. The stories are put together with much organization, the poetry has more variety and the play—well more about that later.

Of course, it still has some of its old earmarks such as too deep morals, both in the character sketches and in the poetry. This probably is just the facetious complaint of the indolent. Nevertheless indolence is a quite universal characteristic of the masses.

Back to the play and the praise of a "low-brow" satire. In my estimation this play by Dudley Johnson, although it has no stage possibilities, has hit the big spot in the magazine. Nothing difficult to realize and so true to life. Look around you and see for yourself—those characters are real!

Yes the "Humanist" has come across this quarter and only praise and admiration can be due those who no doubt, diligently worked to make the magazine the success that it is. It has truly served the purpose of art for the student's sake.

Not to forget Dr. Hayes and the Theatre Guild, I must make mention of the fact that there is another play in the offing. "Death of a Salesman" by Arthur Miller is due for the UMD stage on April 29 through May 2.

Royal Winnipeg Ballet

Acclaimed Canada's premier ballet company, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet will present a varied program of comic, modern and classical ballet at Denfeld high school auditorium, April 21, under the sponsorship of Jay Luyre.

Featuring "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," based on the classic poem, choreographed by Gweneth Lloyd, the company's directress, and containing an original score by Eric Wild, one of Canada's leading composers, the program will also include excerpts from "Swan Lake," and a short program piece entitled "Finishing School," a comic ballet set to music of Johann Strauss.

Tickets are now on sale at the Downtown Ticket Office at Freimuth's Department Store. Phone reservations are being accepted at 7-1588.

provided by trombonist Kenny Trimble and the outfit also claims instrumental soloist Buddy Wise, tenor saxman.

Anthony stresses versatility in his music, his orchestral presentations running the gamut from jazz and swing to novelties and sweet ballads for a well-balanced musical program to please almost every taste. Anthony doesn't like be-bop, but places emphasis on music that is danceable. This is a big reason for Anthony's popularity on the college prom circuit. The band plays an average of 100 major college prom dates a year.

At a time when singers were dominating the nation's wax-works, the name of Ray Anthony, through Capitol records, sky-rocketed across the record scene. During his first year with Capitol, in 1950, Anthony chalked up sales figures of more than two million records.

Anthony's recording success proved a boon to the entire dance band business for it encouraged other recording companies to put greater emphasis on dance bands than ever before.

One of the most important factors in Anthony's rise to the top of the name bands has been the popularity of his records with the nation's disc-jockeys. The platter-spinners gave him his first big boost in electing his crew the "Number One" dance band on records and it has been estimated that his Capitol records are accorded more air play through the country than the combined total of any three other bands.

Anthony's success on records and the constant play given his platters by the nation's disc-jockeys have combined to make a consistent winner of name band popularity polls from coast-to-coast.

Before joining the Navy in 1942, Anthony played briefly with Jimmy Dorsey, and later with Glenn Miller, and won a personal following of his own as featured trumpet star of the Miller Band. He was discharged from the Navy in 1946 and formed his own dance orchestra in the Midwest. He toured the country for three years until he was signed up by Capitol Records for a record buildup. Anthony has won the nationwide disc-jockey poll as America's top dance band and has been hailed as "America's greatest musical name since the days of the late Glenn Miller."

Marriage No Hinderance; 190 Seek Education

Up until a few years ago, higher education was only for the children of the wealthy, or those lucky enough to get one of the infrequent scholarships which were offered.

Today this idea is changed. Anyone who is a veteran may get a college education furnished by the government. But more than this, some students are willing to put out the extra effort that working and raising a family takes while they are getting their education.

UMD has, at the present time, approximately 1300 students. Of these over 190 or about seven per cent are married. These married students in some cases are supported by their mate, but many must earn all, or at least part of their sustenance.

This married group breaks down to 13 freshmen, 15 sophomores, 41 juniors and 51 seniors, the remaining group being adult specialists or unclassified.

Five widows are also enrolled at the University. They are included in the ranks of the 60 married women. There are 132 married men in the school.

News Service Advertises UMD

By ALICE NIEMI

Few of us are aware of the important role played by the News Service here at UMD.

The service was begun in 1947 under the direction of Carroll Hansen, now editor of publications for the San Diego county schools. He was succeeded by Mrs. Olive Greeley in 1948-49, a former member of the main campus news service staff. William Caldwell, a former State Department employee with informational experience in Sicily and Italy served from 1949-50.

ROTC Rifle Team

The UMD ROTC Rifle team finished its season with four wins and six defeats in recent rifle matches against other college ROTC rifle teams. UMD was victorious over North Texas State, Alabama, Ball State and Superior State and were defeated by Illinois, West Virginia, North Dakota, Tulane and Kansas.

In the Randolph Hearst National meet, UMD ranked in the upper one-third of the 270 schools entered.

Clarence N. Anderson, a former member of the Duluth Herald and News-Tribune staff, came to the post in January, 1951.

Functions of the News Service are many and far-reaching. It sends out material on school activities, students, physical and academic development, to a regular list of daily newspapers, weeklies and radio stations, a total of nearly 100 in this region.

It also supplies articles and news releases to "The Minnesotan," U of M staff magazine; "The Voice of the Alumni," publication of the Minnesota Alumni association; "Chats," quarterly news letter to parents mailed out by the Main campus, and various programs printed for football and basketball games.

Generally it maintains informational contact between the Duluth and Minneapolis campuses and with Duluth radio stations and newspapers to keep them apprized of special activities on the campus.

Stories on out-of-town students and activities are sent to their home town newspapers and radio stations. It also co-operates with student organizations in planning and executing publicity programs.

Special interest is that it services the national wire and picture services when the occasion arises. An example of this was the double photo layout of Dennis LaRoque as football player and actor which was distributed by the AP News Photo Service to all newspapers in the country.

It also services foreign newspapers and magazines with photos and stories on events involving persons from other countries or subjects in which there is international interest. This included the visit of the Danish mayor and his deputy to Duluth and a release on the UMD Early Music Ensemble which has been used in music magazines in England and Germany.

The service assists in compiling and editing summer session bulletins, general bulletins, class schedules and other materials used by faculty and students for meetings and special events in Duluth and in laying out and printing of departmental promotional literature.

Personal responsibilities of Mr. Anderson are teaching Journalism 13, 14, 15 and English 20; advisor for the Statesman, Chronicle and Pi Delta Epsilon. He is also permanent secretary of the University Relations Committee.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

By DICK SIPOLA

Spring is here and the arrival of these balmy days turns a sport fan's fancy to thoughts of baseball, track, tennis and other sports we associate with green grass and sunshine. The preceding may be a bit trite but we feel that way, and diagnose it as a good case of "spring fever." Judging by the wandering eyes in our class rooms there are others suffering from the same malady.

Our UMD basketball, hockey and ski teams should be congratulated on their fine season records. All were improvements over previous records in these sports and have served to show MIAC fans that the Bulldogs will be tough to handle from now on. We must also congratulate the fans for their vastly increased support and thank the Duluth-News Tribune and Herald for the fine publicity and coverage given to UMD athletics. We are sure that it will continue and know that it is appreciated by all. Of course we would like to see all Bulldog fans at all of the games, but if it is impossible to attend a game, Reg Buck's fine coverage is certainly the next best thing.

CHAMPS AGAIN?

The Minneapolis Lakers and New York Knickerbockers are fighting it out for the National Basketball Association crown for the second consecutive year. When this column was written the teams were tied with one victory each in the best-of-seven play-off. It seems as though Minnesota fans take the Lakers rather lightly considering they are one of the top attractions in the world of sports today. If you have had the pleasure of watching professionals in action you can really appreciate those amazing Lakers.

JUST GUESSES!

Knowing that all fans have their own favorites and opinions, we are nevertheless venturing our guesses as to the outcome of the major league races in 1953. Just picking the pennant winners we come up with those perennial champs the Yankees in the American League, and a wobbly vote for the Dodgers in the National. Remember we can all be wrong.

MIAC Tournament Meets Highlight Schedule in Three Spring Sports

Favorable weather conditions for early practice sessions is the optimistic note as Coaches Lew Rickert and Joe Gerlach prepare for the forthcoming golf, tennis and track seasons. However, a shortage of lettermen is causing a slight pessimistic tone.

Rickert is doubling up on coaching duties, handling both the netters and linksters while Gerlach is coaching the thin-clads. Aspirants for the various teams should contact either Rickert or Gerlach, Room 5, Main building.

Highlight of the season in all three sports are the MIAC championship meets. The golf tournament, a 36-hole, 5-man affair, will be played on the Keller course in St. Paul on May 22. The Bulldogs copped the championship two years ago, but had to settle for third place last year. The tennis title will be decided May 22 and 23 at St. Thomas while the conference track meet will be run off May 23 at St. Thomas.

Prospective candidates for the golf team so far include Bob Korsch, Dick Kohlbray, Jerry Weld, Grant Merritt, Jack Gerard and John Patrick. Korsch, a southpaw, earned a starting berth last year but was declared ineligible midway in the season. Kohlbray is well-known in local golfing circles, having performed creditably at Northland last summer. Gerard was on the team several years ago prior to entrance into the armed forces. Patrick starred for Denfeld high school last year.

Rol Cloutier and Joe Young, both returning regulars, are expected to bolster the tennis squad which has as other candidates John Lund, Harry Hagen-brock, Stuart Benson and Howard Saaski. The Bulldog netmen were eliminated in the first round in the loop meet last year.

Seven lettermen answered Gerlach's initial call for candidates. They are Dick Lorix and Larry Golberg, hurdles; Bob Daniels, dashes; Charles Beberg, half-mile; Herb Peterson, quarter-mile; Harold Ness, sprints, and Capt. Ken Johnson, discus.

Other meets in the various sports are: Golf, Michigan Tech, here, May 2; Michigan Tech, there, May 16; Gustavus Adolphus, there, May 21; and Virginia Junior College, no date set. Tennis, Michigan Tech, here, May 2; Michigan Tech, there, May 16; Virginia Junior College, no date set. Track, Bemidji Invitational, no date set.

The above meets are definite, but others will be added as the season progresses.

Ski Team Finishes 8th in Nation; Slotnees Stars in Four-Way Event

Two weeks ago, on the weekend of March 27, 28, 29, the UMD ski team competed in the National Intercollegiate Four-Way Meet on the plunging slopes of Mount Ogden, in the Wasatch Range, on Wildcat Run and Enger Hill.

The Bulldogs finished eighth placing skiers in the top ten in the cross-country, slalom and four-way combined.

Comprising the UMD ski contingent were Coach George Hovland, Capt. Duane Ramfjord, Carl Schramm, Jack Modahl, Don Nygaard, Paul Vesterstein, Stuart Benson, Bill McLean and Gordy Slotness.

Slotness, one of the finer skiers in the Midwest, was the Bulldogs ace, finishing sixth in the four-way combined, eighth in the cross-country and sixth in the slalom. He also placed twenty-second in jumping but fell in the downhill event.

The meet opened on Friday, March 27 with the cross-country event over a six mile course in wet and sloppy snow. This was the Bulldogs best event, three skiers placing in the top ten. In addition to Slotness, Don Nygaard finished seventh and Paul Vesterstein ninth. The Bulldogs were second behind Washington State who eventually won the tournament.

The downhill and slalom were held Saturday, and it was in these two events that the Bulldogs stock fell. Slotness was the only Maroon and Gold representative in the top ten. The downhill run was one and three-quarter miles in length and dropped 2,500 feet, almost a half-mile, in that distance. As a team, the Bulldogs finished eighth in the slalom and last in the downhill.

Bill McLean led the Maroon and Gold to a third place finish in jumping, tying for seventh. McLean was only one-half point out of fourth place.

This national meet marked UMD's first sojourn into big-league skiing competition. Several schools had foreign students competing who have carried their nation's colors in past World and Olympic skiing competition.

Coach George Hovland said that the altitude and slope bothered the boys' in the slalom and downhill both physically and psychologically. He added that when unused to skiing at such a high altitude "it feels as if you're heart is going to come through the top of your head."

Prospects look bright for next year. The only senior lettermen are Paul Vesterstein and Wilbur Najjar. Returning will be Benson, Ramfjord, Schramm, Modahl, Nygaard, McLean, Slotness, George Bogart, Frank Franson, Ed Poirier, and Jack Wangenstein.

Hockey Team Gains Tie for MIAC Title

Last month marked the triumphant finish of UMD's 1952-53 hockey schedule. It ended much as it had begun, with further honors for the Maroon and Gold pucksters and the University of Minnesota, Duluth Branch.

The season began with a game against Minnesota's Gophers, the best college hockey team in the country. It culminated with a 4-3 victory over Lakehead Institute of Port Arthur in the cradle of hockey, Canada, and against a goalie, Bert Brooks, who is Toronto Maple Leaf property.

This game saw UMD play in its first game of "Canadian" hockey, one of the main features being that body checking can be committed anywhere on the ice. Ed Skalko scored two goals and an assist to take the 1952-53 scoring title with 16 points. Skip High tallied his eighth goal to lead in that department.

Sandwiched in is a tie for the MIAC title, the first such honor in UMD's history.

On the way to the loop tie and a 12-3 season record, the Maroon and Gold split with St. Thomas, defeated St. John's twice, bested Macalester, Gustavus and Hamline in single games and won by forfeit over the latter three. The Bulldogs were the only college team to defeat St. Cloud and they did it twice. In the other non-conference game UMD lost to Michigan Tech who competes in the Midwest League.

A large measure of the Bulldog success must be given goalie Paul Cooper, a senior. "Coop" stopped 90 per cent of the discs shot at him in conference play.

The Bulldogs started the '52-'53 warfare fairly well established at defense with four lettermen, Jerry Calengor from Hibbing being the only non-letterman to break into the lineup at this position. Only four lettermen returned at forwards, but the season finished with Coach Gordy Eddolls icing three balanced lines, all scoring within three goals of each other.

Only four lettermen, Cooper; defensemen Joe Kolar and Jim Krysiak; and wing Bob Bostrom will be missing next year. Returning will be eight forwards, three defensemen and a goalie.

Earning hockey letters were Tom Anderson, Bob Apostol, Jim Birt, Tim Harney, Bob Juneo, John Mitchell, Ron Scott, Ron Sjoberg, Skalko, High, Cooper, Kolar, Krysiak, Bostrom and Dwaine Ganyo, student manager.
